A week ago Bruff was arrested, charged with begting Lillian, and an myestigation by the police showed that the three children were not properly cared for by their parents, both of whom are in poor health.

There are two other children in institutions in Washington.

A commission composed of Justice R. B. Washington, and Drs. M. D. Delaney and Walter A. Warfield, with which Police Justice Caton also conferred, decided that the family should be separated. The father was sent to the Western Asylum for the Insane at Staunton, and the mother to an institution near Lynchburg. The children will be turned over to the Children's Aid Society of Richmond.
